

PORT OF REDWOOD CITY

Christie Coats

Director of Operations

As the Director of Operations, Christie Coats will guide the Port's strategic vision for the Port's operations, including leading the Port's cargo operations, capital improvement projects and managing the Federal Emergency Management Agency and security grant programs.

Coats most recently served as the General Manager of Maritime and Asset Management at the Port of New Orleans overseeing the real estate, cruise and operations departments. She previously served as the Director of Operations and Real Estate, overseeing the real estate assets and leases for the maritime and industrial properties.

Coats also served as a Senior Manager for the Port of San Diego where she negotiated and administered the Port's maritime real estate assets, projects and agreements, including staff and resources for maritime properties on the San Diego Bay.

Coats received her MBA from Pepperdine University and is an alumna of the University of California, Riverside.
