

PORT OF REDWOOD CITY

Nancy C. Radcliffe

Port Commissioner

Radcliffe was appointed to the Port Commission in June of 2022. She comes to the Port after serving 20 years on the Redwood City Planning Commission. She has deep knowledge and understanding of the issues facing the community and the Port. She also brings firsthand knowledge of the creeks, sloughs and Port area waterways due to her many years as a sculler.

Radcliffe was named Businesswoman of the Year in 2015 by the Redwood City-San Mateo County Chamber of Commerce. Recipient of the Sequoia Awards Outstanding Individual for the year of 2021. She has served on numerous local non-profit boards, including CityTrees, taking care of Redwood City's Urban Forest, the Redwood City Library Foundation, Redwood City Woman's Club, San Mateo Chamber Board and Redwood City International.

Commissioner Radcliffe values the port as the only deep-water port in the South San Francisco Bay, it's important role in the economy of Redwood City and the County, and the opportunity to strengthen the Ports' connection to the community through a ferry and redevelopment of the business park area.
